Sensory Explosion of Summer Colors

By Marilou Newell

There were fairy houses and sweeping seaside vistas, petite flowering patches, and grand elegant specimens. There was truly something for everyone when the Marion Garden Group and the Mattapoisett Woman's Club hosted their fundraising garden tours. The two clubs coordinated their events so each could have their own day. MGG's event took place on June 25, and MWCGG on June 26. The back-to-back tours were nothing short of spectacular!

On June 25, under threatening skies, MGG's tour began in Bicentennial Park where maps that constituted tickets were for sale. And you certainly needed a map to locate the "Secret Gardens," which was also the theme of the event. Most of the gardens in the tour were on sea view properties making the natural coastlines a major feature of the overall planting designs. These were gardens on a grand scale with textures and sculptural features that provided a magnificent finish to carpet-like lawns.

Spearheading the beautification of Marion's public spaces is Liz Hatch, who has striven for several years to fundraise, using those monies to buy planter boxes and flowering shrubs to be placed at key locations throughout the community. Such locations as the traffic island on Route 105, the welcome sign at the corner of Route 6 and Front Street, and the turn-around on Route 6 at the boundary of Marion and Mattapoisett are just a few of the areas that Hatch felt could use some flowering attention.

Now with robust ticket sales showing that the event would be an "outstanding success – beyond our wildest dreams," Hatch could continue planning for the ongoing needs of the beautification project.

"The funds will go to the continued beautification of Marion," she said. "We are doing everything we can to continue our mission." Hatch said that without the willing help from town officials and departments, the goal would not be achievable.

And therein lies a big hurdle, Hatch said. She applauded the early efforts of the MGG volunteers in bringing gallons of water to the public locations where floral displays had been planted. "Jodi Dickerson was critical; if it weren't for him … the plants would have suffered," Hatch stated of his efforts last summer.

Dickerson, a former police officer and selectman, more recently accepted a reassignment from his role as director of Marion's Recreation Department to become the DPW's acting director of operations. His new position bridges the areas of responsibility between the Parks and Recreation Department and the DPW. "Jodi got water to the plants," lifesaving water, Hatch said, adding a deep appreciation for the assistance of Town Administrator Jay McGrail.

With the MGG coffers refreshed from the Secret Garden tour, Hatch sees plans for providing public water, including spigots in some public locations, a closer reality.

Hatch fully understands the challenges that lie ahead, but she remains hopeful that one day a steady water supply will be more abundantly available for keeping Marion in full bloom.

"Everyone wins when the town looks its best," Hatch said, quoting from a speaker the MGG hosted in recent months. That is, of course, an understatement, but a beautiful one, indeed.

Hatch thanked the committee members for their tireless efforts – Emilie Kendall, Phyllis Partridge, Allison Corfone, Cassy West, and Nancy Khiel. Kendall also wished to thank the residents of the eight gardens in the tour, who through their willingness to open their properties to the public, made the event possible.

The following day, it was Mattapoisett's turn to throw open the garden gates and let the public see the efforts of primarily the property owners in their 10th Mattapoisett Woman's Club Tour titled, "Glorious Gardens." Here, one could find the tender treatment of a fallen tree into a fairy's paradise, raised vegetable beds every bit as bountiful as a staged magazine cover, and thick, lush lawns framing flowers, trees, and shrubs of every conceivable description and color only available from nature's coloring book.

Hosted by the garden group within the MWC, this fundraiser provides financial support in the form of student scholarships to graduating high school seniors, as well as support to charities in the area, according to longtime member Kathy McAuliffe. She said that approximately 200 people viewed the gardens, and she thanked the seven property owners who granted access to their gardens, making the event one of the best garden tours the group has held to date.

McAuliffe said the club was founded in October 1941 by some 70 women who soon found themselves helping with the war effort needed after December of that same year. A celebration is in planning for the club's 80 anniversary, she shared.

McAuliffe said that early on the development of a garden sub-group within the MWC organization was a bit of a surprise to a few new members. "We were told we would handle the gardens," she said with a warm chuckle. But she said they were equal to the task, quickly organizing themselves into categories of to-do lists and then getting it done. "One person did tickets; others did garden tasks.… It was divide and conquer." McAuliffe said since 2014 it has been the same core group of members making the garden tour rather like a water wheel smoothly turning.

McAuliffe thanked her fellow members, Marie Rottler, Maryanne Hickey, Carole Clifford, Kathleen Saunders, Caroline Price, Mary O'Keefe, Erin Burlinson, and Cindy Turse.

So, maybe the next time it rains you'll remember this inspirational quote from Xan Oku: "May the flower remind us why the rain was so necessary."

Percy Browne House a Weighty Matter

Marion Historical Commission

By Mick Colageo

Tabor Academy's new Head of School, Anthony "Tony" Jaccaci, starts on Thursday, July 1, and one of the first pieces of community correspondence on his desk will be a letter from Marion Historical Commission Chair Meg Steinberg about the Percy Browne House.

Weighing in on the decaying icon of shingle-style architecture that was targeted for demolition a few years back before nationally known architects persuaded the prep school to hold off will be a well prepared, careful exercise.

What it means in the long term is anyone's guess, as the building's future has yet to be determined.

The landmark was on the Historical Commission's agenda when it met on June 24 via Zoom, a format its members hope to leave behind pending availability of the Music Hall later this summer. Before any next action is discussed, the commission will wait on Jaccaci.

Meanwhile, further publicity will be sought through print media and other entities around the capital.

In relation to long-term strategies regarding historic landmarks around Marion, the commission is exploring the development of a demolition bylaw for the town.

The topic is in its early stages of fact finding, and Steinberg told the commission that Judy Rosbe sent her the Wareham Demolition Delay Ordinance that was approved by voters in 2009 and drafted after a state model. That ordinance necessitates a six-month waiting period if a town committee deems the property to be of historical significance.

Steinberg also pointed out that the Town of Fairhaven has a demolition delay ordinance and suggested requesting Fairhaven Director of Planning & Economic Development Paul Foley appear before the commission to explain how it has been working in Fairhaven. "We're not anywhere near ready to do that," said Steinberg.

Member Will Tifft agreed but said the local commission will have to come up with a proposal, an education program, and a place for people to express objections. "A real plan," he said, will take time to establish, "But it's not too early to [start]."

The commission discussed updates on other historic landmarks being considered for renovation.

The Pitcher house at 113 Front Street, also known as the Old Parsonage, that was built in 1813 by Captain John Pitcher, the brother of Elizabeth Pitcher Taber, is looking at a redesign.

At 17 Hermitage Road off Route 6 and Oakdale Road sits a house described in the June 24 meeting as "beat up" but "with historic integrity." Its owner would like a meeting to show the commission restoration plans.

In her Grant Applications Update, Steinberg summarized the status of 2020 and 2021 MHC and Community Preservation Committee programs.

Regarding MHC 2021, a contract between the state and the town is in the works, and a request for quotes is in the process for a late July distribution on the rest of the village area, along with Water Street, the Nye area, and Ladder Street. Steinberg anticipates awarding a contract by mid-September.

The CPC 2021 grant for Old Landing and Burr Brothers, Depot Area, County Road, and Tremont Campground is on hold until the 2021 MHC grant is awarded.

Under Current Grants status, the MHC's 2020 program is awaiting reports and forms that were due in late May, including the Marion village survey. Steinberg said the MHC can get an extension from the state if needed.

Funding allocations are as follows: The MHC 2021 grant receives $15,000 from the state and $15,000 in matching funds from the CPC 2020 award; the CPC 2021 grant is $30,000 from CPC 2020 award (not a matching grant); the MHC 2020 grant is $15,000 from the state and $15,000 in matching funds from the Sippican Historical Society; the CPC 2020 grant is $25,000, $10,000 of which was used for a consultant for the Upper Point Road study, and the other $15,000 in matching funds for the 2021 MHC grant.

The CPC 2020 invoice, report, and forms were received on June 21 for review, including the study conducted of upper Point Road and Giffords Corner. The forms and historical report were forwarded to members.

MHC member Bryan McSweeny said, "I think [the 32-page report] will be well received by the Portuguese community.... I learned a lot about this town reading this report. I was impressed with it." McSweeny noted the new part of the report in which the Azores, Madeiras, and all the islands are detailed, including their proximities to Africa and Portugal. "It's pretty well defined. It even has a map in there to show where everybody came from."

Tifft said he would like to see new Sippican Historical Society member Rick DaSilva, a senior history teacher at Tabor Academy and longtime Marion resident, get involved in programming. "We're very excited to have Rick involved in the board as a liaison to the [Portuguese] community," he said.

In other business, Tifft noted that the First Congregational Church of Marion membership is "severely reduced these days," and that there have been preliminary conversations about how the Sippican Historical Society, of which Tifft is a member, may be able to help. Tifft said that the chapel and the church itself face no sense of immediate concern but are potentially at risk.

The next meeting of the Marion Historical Commission is scheduled for Thursday, July 22, at 4:30

New COA Director Ready to Serve

By Marilou Newell

Eric Poulin may be new to the role of Council on Aging director in Rochester, but he brings with him a depth of knowledge on a number of issues facing senior citizens. That came through loud and clear when The Wanderer caught up with Poulin during the June 24 Meet and Greet that the COA hosted with its new director.

Poulin said when he began to consider making a career change, he knew he wanted to do something that would give his more than 20 years of experience in the Fall River District Attorney's Office handling elder affairs a new opportunity to serve a population whose numbers grow with each day. Poulin's scope of experience, which includes being on the boards of Bristol Elder Services, Southeast Alliance for Elders, and the Samaritans, placed him in direct contact with 27 senior centers in the DA's service area.

"I was interacting with senior centers and was aware of the work they were doing.… It was something that interested me," said Poulin, whose timely opportunity to fill Rochester's COA vacancy could be deemed something that was meant to be. He wanted the opportunity to work directly with seniors face to face and now he can.

Poulin's previous experience found him organizing and coordinating massive events geared toward providing information to seniors on a variety of issues such as fraud and cybercrime. He wants to bring programs to Rochester that will help seniors to better understand and protect themselves against illegal activities, but he has other ideas, too, such as helping seniors navigate effectively on computers.

"A recent survey conducted by Coastline Elder Services found that seniors want to learn how to use a computer; it was the number-one issue they wanted addressed," Poulin said. He said the second item ranked on the survey was exercise programs. On that score, Poulin is already searching out potential Tai Chi instructors. And the third item ranked in the Coastline survey was the hiring of service providers for home repairs and improvements. "I want to help seniors think about what should be considered before hiring a contractor," Poulin stated.

In July, Poulin plans to bring a speaker to the Rochester COA from the attorney general's office to address the topic of being a savvy senior. He said he plans to bring in a variety of presenters to discuss matters that are relevant to local seniors.

Also in attendance at the welcoming event was Selectman Woody Hartley, a longtime member of the COA's Board of Directors. Of Poulin, he said, "Eric is on top of programs and has lots of networking contacts … for programs on many topics." Hartley believes the COA has been a well-oiled machine for many years and that Poulin will help focus efforts in that continuum of service.

Hartley pointed to the voters as a prime reason the COA and youth athletic programs have flourished in the community. "The town has supported both very well," he said.

Police Bring Assault Charges

By Mick Colageo

Marion resident Jeffrey S. Anderson, 69, was charged on Monday with Assault with a Dangerous Weapon after allegedly threatening first responders with a knife during a well-being visit to his home on June 26, according to Marion Chief of Police Richard Nighelli.

Anderson will be summoned to appear at Wareham District Court at a date to be determined. No further information was available as of Monday.

In a press release issued on June 26, Marion Police reported on a safe apprehension of an armed suspect stemming from a 911 call made at approximately 1:30 pm Saturday by a resident on Joanne Drive. Police and Marion Fire/EMS quickly responded to perform a well-being check on a man at the address.

While receiving assistance, the resident became agitated and armed himself with a knife, its blade measuring 8 to 10 inches. The man allegedly pointed the knife at first responders multiple times before then pointing it at himself.

Marion Police Officer Connor Flynn used his taser to no effect, and then used a chemical irritant spray and the man dropped the knife. Police secured the weapon and restrained the man without injury. Flynn and Officer Stephen Dawson handcuffed the suspect and transported

"I would like to commend Officers Flynn and Dawson and all those who responded to the scene for remaining calm and professional during this entire incident," said Nighelli. "First responders are trained to be ready should any incident escalate suddenly, and the restraint shown here prevented a potentially tragic situation from occurring."

Hiring of Conservation Agent Discussed

Mattapoisett Select Board

By Marilou Newell

The reality that Mattapoisett will soon be facing a vacancy in the Conservation Department was a main topic of discussion when the Select Board met on June 29 with Conservation Commission Chairman Mike King and commissioner David Lawrence. Conservation Agent Liz Leidhold's impending retirement will leave a critical element, implementation of the Wetlands Protection Act, without an in-field agent.

"We are at a crossroads," began Select Board Chair Jordan Collyer. He said that a part-time conservation agent position that Town Administrator Mike Lorenco said had been advertised on municipal employment platforms had not stirred interest.

King confessed that the commission as a whole had not fully appreciated the depth of work Leidhold had been handling alone since the departure of the clerk many months prior. Leidhold had single-handedly been conducting all field work and all Conservation Department paperwork.

"We've been in our COVID bubble and never realized how much work she was doing," King said, evaluating that between clerical duties and field work, a full-time position should be considered as a possibility. He said the Wetlands Protection Act imposes strict regulations on cities and towns, regulations from which he does not want to run afoul.

King shared three scenarios for the board to consider: Expand the search for a new agent; make the position full time; and/or hire an agent as a short-term contractor.

"I'm in favor of a full-time agent … if we can live with a combined position," Collyer said, acknowledging the challenge of hiring any new staff at this point in time. "We'd need to make the dollars work."

Select Board member Jodi Bauer said of a full-time position, "We have to consider the (employee) benefits and where that's going to put that person at."

Collyer said the board needs all the details in terms of compensation for a full-time agent and if the position could in fact be a combination of clerical and field duties. Leidhold had been working as a part-time agent for a number of years before assuming the clerical duties as well approximately two years ago. Some intermittent clerical assistance had also helped to keep the Conservation Department office moving forward.

Collyer said the next step is to approach Leidhold to ascertain her interest in applying for the full-time position. Barring that, then asking her if she would be willing to work as a consultant after her retirement date of July 20. The board and commission also agreed that a hard look at the commission's fee structure is warranted. The matter will be brought before the board again at the next meeting.

In other personnel matters, Lorenco said he has begun the department head review process, a process not previously part of the town's human resources guidelines. He said a nine-page employment review booklet covered job-related aspects such as knowledge of the position held, leadership, goals, and professional development. Collyer said that the department head review process should be incorporated into the human resources policy book.

The board also considered a request made by the proprietors of the Captain and Walrus restaurant for permission to have a mobile alcohol bar for outdoor service. The matter was tabled until the next meeting pending consideration of details such as patron safety, impacts on zoned parking requirements, and issues related to crowds congregating outdoors. Collyer said the request would have to be reviewed by the Massachusetts Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission. Both board members agreed that the restaurant is an asset in the community. "They've done a good job," Bauer said.

Lorenco reminded the public that repair work will begin on July 12 on Acushnet Road, lasting for approximately 30 days. He also said that Phase 1 repairs to the Highway Department Building on Mendell Road have been put out to bid. Also announced was a meeting with ORCTV on July 13.

Although not listed on the agenda for this night, Collyer brought up the possible future sale of the soon-to-be-retired fire station. "We need to consider the best course of action," he said. Lorenco said he had been in discussion with Town Counsel, whom he said advised deed restrictions before any future sale to ensure that the property is utilized by new owners in a manner acceptable to the town. Collyer asked Lorenco to prepare a request for quotation for real estate services as well as details on public auctions.

Lorenco also reported that members of the Collins Institute team, engaged via a Community Compact grant to study various municipal buildings and the transfer station operations, had visited the town. The full study including more in-depth field work will commence in July, he said.

Earlier in the meeting, the board appointed Andrew McGraw and Luis Dasilva as reserve police officers and dissolved the Declaration of Emergency that had been imposed due to the pandemic.

The board approved a request by the Mattapoisett Land Trust for a one-day malt only and entertainment license for its annual Great Community Picnic to be held on August 5.

On a humorous note, after announcing that the Lion's Club at 7:30 pm on Saturday, July 17, will be opening a 50-year time capsule that was laid under the gazebo, assistant to the board Mel Pacheco said, "If we can find the key!" Everyone had a good chuckle on that point, concluding that a hammer might be needed.

It was noted by Lorenco that town boards will continue to use Zoom for public meetings, although in-person attendance at Town Hall or other public spaces will remain available. He said the state has voted to allow public meetings to continue on remote platforms until April 1, 2021.

Whose Water Is Whose?

Marion Water & Sewer Commissioners

By Mick Colageo

In their quarterly meeting held June 24 at the Music Hall, the Marion Water and Sewer Commissioners heard from several key personnel on short and long-term developments as the town tries to address immediate problems and set the wheels in motion for long-term upgrades to aging facilities.

Fred Underhill addressed the commissioners on behalf of the Town of Rochester, where he sits on that town's Water Commission. (In Rochester, the members are not one and the same with the Select Board as is the case in Marion.)

Underhill brought Marion officials up to date on the situation with Ken Steen's residential/commercial development and Rochester's water dependence on the Town of Wareham, which he noted is willing to sell Rochester more water as needed.

The update served as a gateway to a discussion on the bigger picture, which is not pleasing to Underhill. He told the Marion commissioners that New Bedford is looking for more water from Rochester, while Taunton is looking to take more from Lakeville, which shares Great Quittacas and Little Quittacas ponds with Rochester.

"It's going to be interesting to see how the state is going to deal with this," he said, characterizing the situation as "unfair" primarily because heretofore Rochester has no say in the matter. New Bedford, he said, has some ability to control the level of Great Quittacas Pond, which affects the level of Snipatuit Pond in Rochester. New Bedford, said Underhill, does "absolutely nothing" for Rochester.

Rochester officials have made it known to state officials that they wish to be included in discussions regarding how much water New Bedford will be allowed to draw. Underhill hopes the four towns supplying New Bedford and Taunton with water can combine forces and speak to the state with a louder voice on the matter.

Once the state decides on water withdrawal rights, supplying towns have at least 60, but no more than 90, days to respond, according to Underhill.

Underhill told the meeting that David Hughes has been elected to replace Mike Conway, who moved out of the area and is no longer holding office in Rochester. Hughes may represent the town in a future meeting.

In her water update to the commissioners, DPW Engineer Meghan Davis reported that the Mill Street/ Route 6 project is done.

The Mary's Pond well project is ongoing. Davis anticipates completion in February 2022, at which point all three wells in the area will be up and running. Town Administrator Jay McGrail said a tour of the Mary's Pond well project has been requested. The wells are on Rochester land.

Davis reported on Marion's hydrant replacement project, noting that the contractor is waiting on the delivery of certain parts to complete some of the replacements. She told Commissioner Randy Parker that what can be completed next year will depend on what can be fit into the project's $50,000 budget. Davis said that once the three hydrants being upgrade are completed over the next few weeks, the town will be caught up with those that had been inoperable. After that, the priority will shift to aging hydrants in need of repair.

Engineer Jon Gregory of Tata & Howard accompanied Davis to report to the commissioners. In 2020, Tata & Howard conducted an evaluation of water mains in Marion, primarily evaluating pressure and condition and recommended improvements.

The 2020 report updated the hydraulic model, looking at water mains of varying sizes serving private areas. Some, said Gregory, as so small they are not viable in the larger picture. Gregory reported that 22 water mains in Marion are private, according to the report.

Commissioner John Waterman said that, long term, the town wants to get out of the business of private water mains via incentive programs.

DPW Director Nathaniel Munafo reported to the commissioners with a sewer update and was assisted with visual presentations and commentary by Kent Nichols Jr. of Reading-based engineers Weston and Sampson. At the end of the current grant cycle, Munafo said the DPW is ready to present project updates to the commissioners.

Nichols discussed the plight of existing wastewater treatment stations as being low-lying and far below flood elevation. The goal, he said, is to make the Creek Road station fully functional and address the long-term issue of resiliency.

McGrail, while alluding to a discussion with Representative Bill Straus about the proposed Marine Center, reported that projects such as the proposed Creek Road upgrade with "this level of design" that "are ready to go" are exactly what the state is looking to support.

Waterman said the bidding process tends to be more successful in the fall. He anticipates taking such a project to Town Meeting next May and then bidding the project in the fall of 2022. Munafo talked about the requirements and emphases of the grant application process.

The conversation briefly turned to complications associated with the ongoing removal of sludge and lining of the lagoon at the wastewater treatment plant.

Munafo reported that Davis is working with Weston and Sampson and aiming at a July bidding season for a combined project to upgrade the Mill Street, Hill Street, Cushing Community Center, and Fire Station sewers.

Waterman discussed the ongoing residential developments in Marion and the need to get the projects hooked up to town sewer. He said the town needs to look at capital spending over a 10-year period and try to translate a plan toward the end game of reducing the burden on the town's ratepayers.

The next meeting of the Marion Water & Sewer Commissioners is scheduled to be held in September, but no specific date was set at adjournment.

Multi-Family Application Withdrawn

Rochester Zoning Board of Appeals

By Mick Colageo

In a public hearing on June 24, Jorge Rodriguez came before the Rochester Zoning Board of Appeals seeking a special permit for an addition for a conversion to a multi-family house at 12 Mayflower Lane.

Rodriguez also sought two variances; the first for relief from the town's requirement for the size of the lot, and the second to allow more than a 30-percent increase in the structure floor area under Chapter 20.40, Section F.9.a of the Rochester Zoning Bylaws.

What Rodriquez did not seek in Case No. 1165 was a variance for relief from Rochester's 300-foot frontage requirement for multi-family dwellings. The 65,531 square-foot property, zoned as Agricultural/ Residential, has 273 feet of frontage.

This problem came to light while the ZBA fielded public comment from abutters and other interested parties.

Questioned by an abutter as to the setback requirements for multi-family versus single-family dwellings, ZBA Chairman David Arancio read the bylaw aloud and said that Rodriguez meets the setback requirements, but he also noted in response to a question that the required frontage for a multi-family dwelling is 300 feet.

Asked about the relevance of the frontage requirement to the case, Arancio said he would have to defer to Town Counsel for interpretation of the bylaw. Upon returning from a private call with Town Counsel, Arancio told the applicant that the 300-foot frontage bylaw for a multi-family dwelling would require another variance not contained in the present application.

Faced with a choice between a continuance of the public hearing or withdrawing his application without prejudice in order to reorganize for a new application, Rodriguez chose to withdraw his application. He indicated intention to consult with his architect and resubmit an application that he hopes will not need to seek relief from any zoning bylaws.

Rodriguez was already facing a challenging situation in the hearing, as ZBA attendance was limited on June 24 to four members. In introducing the public hearing, Arancio instructed Rodriguez that, with only four ZBA members present, all four needed to vote in the affirmative in order to grant the special permit and the variances. Rodriguez consented and proceeded under those conditions.

Rodriguez, who has owned the property for over three years, conceded that he can amend his addition to conform with the 30-percent maximum allowed.

Arancio reminded the attendees that the Conservation Commission and the Board of Health would need to vet the septic system.

Due to the absence of some members, the board agreed to postpone a scheduled vote to reorganize until the next meeting.

The next meeting of the Rochester Zoning Board of Appeals is scheduled for Thursday, July 8, at 7:00 pm.

Solar Proposal Draws Objection

Marion Planning Board

By Mick Colageo

A continued public hearing of the Marion Planning Board on June 21 provided abutters an opportunity to respond to My Generation Solar's application for a special permit subject to minor site plan review for the construction of a ground-mounted solar system at 8 Quails Crossing.

Representing applicant Jed Hoffer, Josh Buck summarized the proposal for 33 panels designed solely to provide energy to the residence. The array would measure 610 square feet and sit on the corner of the property, 10 square feet over the maximum allowed.

The system would use a pressure-treated mounting system to fit into a residential setting. The capacity is 12.54 kW DC and 9.57 kW AC, just under the state's size limit for a small-size residential solar. As a "behind the meter system," the system is meant to lessen the amount of electricity that the resident uses from the grid.

Planning Board members Norm Hills and Eileen Marum pointed out that a site plan review would be required even had the application been for a system of 600 square feet. Based on Hoffer's 7.3-acre lot, a 610 square-foot system covers 1.9 percent of the lot, well above the maximum 1.5 percent allowed by the bylaw.

In response to requests for comment, the Conservation Commission said the matter does not fall under its purview, while Fire Chief Brian Jackvony had no comment in time for the June 21 public hearing.

Planning Board Chair Will Saltonstall said that, ahead of the June 21 public hearing, feedback had been received from several abutters including Wayne Mattson, 571 Front Street, and Eileen McCarthy, 570 Front Street. Those abutters and others gathered together to attend the Zoom meeting, but their comments were plagued by poor internet connection.

Hills reviewed a letter submitted by McCarthy ahead of the hearing, addressing comments, dispelling notions he considered not to be applicable to the case, and, in general, responding that the Planning Board uses the public hearing process to examine applicable bylaws and regulations, which givess everyone concerned a platform to be heard and does not play favorites.

After reviewing McCarthy's letter, Hills pointed out that Marion has a bylaw on solar installations, including a section on ground-mounted systems specifying what the bylaw requires to go approval. "There's a lot of misguided and misleading information in this document that we shouldn't get all wound up on," he said.

Given her opportunity to speak, McCarthy called Hills' review of her letter a characterization that favored the applicant. She insisted that her points of interest are applicable to the case. McCarthy also took issue with Marum's classification of Marion as a rural community, a designation Marum based on the town's population.

McCarthy stated concerns about the energy field created by the proposed project, calling it "poor planning" lacking "any concern of the neighbors."

Abutter Bill Quinlan, 586 Front Street, objected to Marum's comment approving the concept of solar energy and said it needs to be counterbalanced by the life of trees that are cut down to make room for solar installations. Saltonstall said that the applicant can by right cut trees on his property.

Saltonstall encouraged all the stakeholders to read Bylaw Section 230-16.6, upon which he said the application is based. Hills and Town Planner Gil Hilario encouraged interested parties to read the entire Section 16.

In an apparent effort to refocus the hearing on the applicant's presentation, Saltonstall asked Buck how the system's size is determined. "We're trying to hit essentially a net-zero import of electricity from the grid," said Buck, noting that Hoffer preferred a ground-mounted system to a roof-mounted system.

The bylaw, noted Saltonstall, requires that the panels not exceed 6 feet in height. Buck said the panels will not exceed 5 feet in height. Asked about noise, Buck said the micro-inverter system makes no noise.

Saltonstall said he believes the screening of the site is the issue at hand.

Board member Joe Rocha said that when he lived in Middleborough he was an abutter to a ground-mounted array, and in this case suggested a vinyl or wood fence as opposed to the proposed fence that he said looks industrial.

The board voted to continue the public hearing to Tuesday, July 6, at 7:15 pm.

Given the contentious and chaotic nature of the proceedings, Collings was compelled during the open comment section to speak about the board's dissemination of information when solar installations are proposed in residential areas.

"We're dealing with a very emotional issue," said Collings. "Instead of these largesse situations that we've seen in the past ... all of these large-scale things that have lots of social good and community connection, this is solar on someone's property.... I think we need to bend over backwards here and make sure that the minimums of what we have as book rule and law – our bylaws – are understood by everyone."

Collings suggested establishing a punch list that he hopes can simplify the public's ability to understand the process.

"It would probably soften some of the anger that the neighborhood has, and a lot of that's basically because they simply don't understand.... Let's make sure the people understand what's already there," he said.

Hilario said the next meeting would be an appropriate platform to introduce a punch list because the June 21 meeting was centered around the applicant's presentation.

Admitting to his own frustration with the public response, Saltonstall said the public has the tools to access the relevant information. Marum said every resident should take as his own responsibility to educate himself on a case. Saltonstall reiterated the need to more focus of the board on the bylaw as it affects a case.

A pre-submission conference was held with Papas Fuels Real Estate, LLC for propane storage tanks and five parking spaces at 9 Luce Road. The night after the Planning Board meeting, the Select Board voted in its own continued public hearing to approve a special permit for Papa's Real Estate, LLC to operate a propane storage business in a water protection district at 0 Luce Avenue, pending Planning Board approval.

Planning Board member Chris Collings summed up his support for the project, while member Norm Hills said he didn't think an environmental assessment is necessary. Member Jonathan Henry echoed the sentiment and reminded the meeting that permits are renewable and not permanent.

Member Alanna Nelson questioned the life of the tanks and the ramifications of material decay. Marum questioned the impact of the trucks on the roads that will be used to access the storage facility.

In addition to unanimously voting to waive the environmental assessment as part of the application, the board requested $3,000 from the applicant for a minor site plan review.

The case will be heard in a public hearing in July.

A pre-submission conference was also conducted with Tabor Academy for temporary classrooms. Planning Board Chair Will Saltonstall recused himself due to involvement.

Marum, the vice chair, presided over the pre-submission conference with Tabor. Marum told members that the two modular classrooms (trailers) would be used while the library is deconstructed, and the new Campus Center is constructed. The project, said Marum, meets all state code requirements for fire, sanitation, lighting, exits, air conditioning, and heating. The temporary building will be powered by the Stroud Academic Building and fire alarms tied into Stroud.

After a briefing on the details of the trailers, Marum suggested the approval should fall exclusively under the purview of Building Commissioner Scott Shippey.

Hills pointed out that a bylaw indicates that a special permit should be secured from the Board of Health since the trailers will be used consistently with the temporary use of trailers for office space. Hilario compared it to a mobile home, but Henry said the trailers will have no water.

Time is a concern for Tabor, which has lost out on two sets of trailers to other schools. Tabor will begin emptying the library on July 19; students return to campus during the third week of August.

"They should be allowed to go ahead; they don't have any time to play with here," said Henry, citing his comfort with "controlled construction," a method that preapproves every aspect of construction, mitigating the need for building inspections.

The board voted that Shippey issue a certificate of occupancy so Tabor can put the trailers on site. Hills was the only dissenting vote and the motion passed.

In a new filing of a public hearing, Sherman Briggs and Hamblin Homes Inc. seek a special permit and are subject to major site plan review for the construction of 28 townhouse-style units on 3.55 acres at Spring and Mill Streets. Per the applicant's request, the public hearing was only opened so the board could vote to continue it to Tuesday, July 6, at 7:25 pm.

Hills said the board will have approximately $3,500 remaining in its budget at the end of FY21 and had discussions with town officials about hiring an engineer to review subdivision rules and regulations and identify necessary changes to bring Marion up to date with state rules and regulations. Hills has contacted an engineer and will soon present information to the board.

"The more we can do to tighten up this board, the better," said Saltonstall.

The next meeting of the Marion Planning Board is scheduled for Tuesday, July 6, at 7:00 pm.

Health Nurse Adds Director to Role

Marion Board of Health

By Mick Colageo

Effective July 1, Marion Public Health Nurse Lori Desmarais will also officially begin in an expanded role as the town's public health director/nurse after a vote by the Marion Board of Health on June 23.

During a brief Zoom meeting, the board also voted to approve an expanded job description that will allow Desmarais to move up a rung on the town's employee grid and receive what BOH Chair Dr. Ed Hoffer called a "well deserved raise," adding, "We made a good choice."

"I agree, big time," said BOH member Dr. John Howard.

In her Public Health Nurse update, Desmarais reported the total absence of new COVID-19 cases during June. There were five reported cases in May; four of the five were under age 18 and those four were under age 12. None displayed significant symptoms.

"Obviously, things are going well," said Desmarais, reporting a total of 494 Marion cases to date. There are no active cases at the nursing home and the June 26 BOH meeting marked 41 days since the facility had an active case. Desmarais said there is still regularly scheduled testing at the facility for non-vaccinated people.

The mosquito-related virus season began on June 14, and the town is awaiting the first reports on that front. Residents are allowed up to eight sprays per season; call Plymouth County Mosquito Control or the Marion Board of Health. Desmarais anticipates updates on streets scheduled for spraying to be posted at marionma.gov.

In her Health Agent update, Anna Wimmer told the board that she was still trying to make contact with the owner of 704 Mill Street, and she observed dumpsters at 33 Pitcher Street where the property is still being cleaned up. She also told the board that she and Building Commissioner Scott Shippey visited 13 Wianno Road where they learned there are several issues, but that the family of the former owner was actively in the process of resolving the situation.

With the coronavirus pandemic "largely behind us," and the ability to call meetings as needed, Hoffer proposed monthly meetings for July and August. With a public hearing already scheduled for Tuesday, July 6, it was decided the board will next meet on July 6. The board will also meet on Tuesday, August 3, before going back to bi-weekly meetings beginning in September.

The next meeting of the Marion Board of Health is scheduled for Tuesday, July 6, at 4:00 pm.

Marion Conservation Commission

By Mick Colageo

Marion's dubious distinction as the only area town lacking a conservation agent is scheduled for demolition after Conservation Commission Chair Shaun Walsh told the June 23 meeting of the commission that the town is looking to hire an agent to work 19 hours per week.

The news was met with approval by the commission, which heretofore has been hiring consultants when cases require levels of expertise beyond what can reasonably be brought to a case by ConCom's members.

Trezise and Joan Gerster filed a Request for Determination of Applicability for the removal of 10 shallow root, tall white pine trees endangering their house and limb removal of a few limbs overhanging the roof area, along with associated species at 22 River View Lane. After a site visit, Walsh said he had no concerns with the proposal and praised the well-organized application. Walsh and ConCom member Cynthia Callow said the trees were well marked on the property.

After closing the public hearing, the commission voted to issue a Negative 2 and 3 Determination of Applicability. Commission member Jeff Doubrava added special conditions limiting tree removal to those marked and sought. Doubrava pointed out the difference between the application and another case also heard on June 23 filed by John and Cynthia Paliotta for land management at 119 Converse Road. Doubrava's point was that, should the trees at at 22 River View Lane fall, they would fall right through the applicants' roof.

After a continued public hearing was closed, the commission voted to award Blankenship Trust LLC filed an Order of Conditions for its proposed beach nourishment at 468 Point Road.

Walsh reported correspondence on June 17 from Natural Heritage, stating that in the state agency's opinion the project would not adversely affect the resource area habitat of state-listed, wild, rare species and would not result in a prohibitive case under the Massachusetts Endangered Species Act.

The Paliottas' Notice of Intent filing for a Land Management Plan involving the eradication of invasive plants and other activities at 119 Converse Road was continued from ConCom's last meeting, and on June 23 the commission voted to continue the hearing to Wednesday, July 14, at 7:00 pm.

ConCom members Cynthia Callow, Doubrava and Walsh visited the site. "There was good conversation between (Marion consultant) Bob Gray and the Paliotta's consultants," noted Walsh, who reported that revisions will be made to the site plan that was submitted and points will be surveyed.

The commission voted to approve two three-year extensions on the order of conditions for the Dexter Beach Improvement Association.

The association had filed two requests for extension, one at 962 Beach Road in its proposal to manage phragmites and another for its proposal of a beach nourishment project. Walsh said the site has improved, but a stand of phragmites continues to stand at an adjacent private property and will eventually encroach on the applicant's property. The second extension will allow up to 100 cubic yards of sand added on an as-needed basis.

that traps sediment. An Order of Conditions was awarded last October.

Walsh noted that representative Dave Davignon of Schneider, Davignon & Leone Inc., stated in his request that the project is in compliance with all requests of the commission. Doubrava recused himself from the case, but the rest of the commission in attendance all voted to approve the Certificate of Compliance.

Diana Worsley's request for extension permit at 329 Front Street was met with a three-year extension on an order of conditions originally issued in 2002 for phragmites management.

In response to the Planning Board's request for comment from ConCom on its case at 428 Wareham Street, Walsh said the site does not fall into ConCom's jurisdiction.

A request from the Zoning Board of Appeals for comment from ConCom to address an application filed by Alan Menard and Nan Johnson, 123 Allens Point Road, to construct a garage that would not comply with setback requirements required a deeper dive. But the same conclusion was reached, as the matter was considered outside the commission's jurisdiction.

The Sippican Lands Trust's RDA for rerouting of the Osprey Marsh trail has requested a continuance to Wednesday, July 28, at 7:00 pm.

The next meeting of the Marion Conservation Commission is scheduled for Wednesday, July 14, at 7:00 pm.

Septic Moved, Project Approved

Mattapoisett Board of Health

By Marilou Newell

During the June 23 meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Health, members Ken Dawicki, Russell Bailey, and Chairman Carmelo Nicolosi quickly approved what had previously been a contentious septic system design when representative David Davignon presented them with an amended plan.

Property owner Robert Malm, Aucoot Road, had first asked for several waivers for a septic design that would have placed the system in jurisdictional areas, using what abutters believed to be unacceptable testing results and inaccurate wetland boundaries.

For Malm, the application was based on his hope to preserve a northern quadrant of the large parcel for future subdivision among family members. Under that plan, it would have been necessary to place the system completely within the boundaries of a southern portion, requiring waivers to the wetland setbacks. The updated design would have the system leach into the northern area outside the wetlands buffer zone, Davignon stated.

Approval was granted, including waivers from regulation, as the percolation test was performed in the most restrictive area using Title 5 standards, and another waiver that read, "Applicant requests a waiver as one of the two percolation rates was greater than 1 inch in 20 minutes. Title 5 now allows a perc rate of up to 1 inch in 60 minutes for new construction." No abutters attended the meeting, and no correspondence was read into the minutes objecting to the updated design.

Also granted on this day were waivers requested by Michael McGreavy, 4 Bayberry Lane, for possible future construction of an addition to an existing home that would need a variance to the minimum setback to a cellar wall of less than 10 feet from a leaching area.

Properties located at 14 and 15 Brandt Island Road, owned respectively by Stephen Napolitano and Ralph Cotellesso, also received requested waivers. Justification for waivers on both properties to setback requirements were waived, given that percolation tests were conducted in the most restrictive materials, Horizon C-2 Title 5 below the maximum seasonal high groundwater table. These cases were also represented by Davignon.

Earlier in the meeting, the board met with Public Health Nurse Emily Field, who reported the discontinuation of weekly COVID-19 statistics, given that cases have almost completely reached zero. She said new protocols would be forthcoming from the state but that contact tracing was winding down. Field said that vaccines are still being offered, especially to the homebound of all ages. Those residents still needing vaccines should call her office to schedule an appointment, she said. The Public Health Office number is 508-758-4100, extension 213.

Field reported that more concerning now is the number of tick bites, some resulting in secondary infections such as anaplasmosis. She urged the public to use protective clothing and to check for ticks on the body after going into wooded areas.

Regarding the health agent vacancy, Nicolosi said that a search is underway but that agents are hard to find. In the meantime, the department is using personnel from neighboring communities to assist in the field as needed. Nicolosi asked the board members to also assist whenever possible.

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Health was not scheduled upon adjournment.

Light Load for ZBA

Marion Zoning Board of Appeals

By Mick Colageo

In response to the Marion Planning Board's request for comment on the case of Steve Lynch, 428 Wareham Street, who seeks a special permit to place a food truck on the location where a barber shop sits at the intersection of Spring Street and Route 6, the Zoning Board of Appeals gave a thumbs up during its June 24 Zoom meeting.

ZBA member Ed Hoffer, who chairs the town's Board of Health, said he is in favor and considers the truck a nice presence for the community during the summer. He also said he hopes the request will be sent to the BOH. "That would be more my concern [that] somebody would inspect for cleanliness," said Hoffer.

Board Administrator Anne Marie Tobia said that with food involved, the case will fall into BOH purview. Other matters such as electrical power would fall under Building Commissioner Scott Shippey. The Planning Board will hear the case on July 6.

The ZBA had to reopen a public hearing on the Tabor Academy Athletics Field in order to approve the revision of an application to correct a clerical error in the decision. The decision was revised to accurately reflect the ZBA's actual vote on the matter, approving the usage of field lights from January to May rather than August through December for the property on Front Street.

ZBA Chair Cynthia Callow said the board would like to meet in person beginning with its August 12 meeting. Tifft said he would be away then to officiate his nephew's wedding but can attend a hybrid meeting. Callow said that Tifft can call in by phone. The main room of the Music Hall is not air-conditioned.

The next meeting of the Marion Zoning Board of Appeals is scheduled for Thursday, July 22, at 6:30 pm via Zoom.

Heavy Agenda Quickly Dispatched

Mattapoisett Conservation Commission

By Marilou Newell

It could have been a long day's journey into night on June 28 when the Mattapoisett Conservation Commission gathered for its first hybrid meeting, a combination of in-person and remote-access attendance. Instead, some 16 cases were quickly handled.

Attending in-person in the Town Hall's conference room were commissioners David Lawrence, John Jacobsen, Chapman Dickerson, and Chairman Mike King. Attending remotely was commissioner Trevor Francis.

There were eight Requests for Determination of Applicability, one Request to Amend a Notice of Intent, two new Notice of Intent petitions, and five NOI petitions that had previously been opened and then continued in what King called "the COVID protocol." The protocol was established to provide abutters and others with interest in any NOI filing additional time to study documents and attend hearings given that not everyone could easily navigate remote-access meeting platforms.

Receiving Negative determinations of applicability on this night were: Charlene Dineen, 1 Nantucket Drive, for the construction of an above-ground pool within a 100-foot buffer zone; Henry Borda, 12 Linhares Avenue, for replacement of an existing foundation within the 100-foot buffer zone; Josh Ignacio, 5 Park Street, for the construction of an above-ground pool within the 100-foot bordering vegetated wetland; Michael Ward for the addition of 2 acres to an existing shellfish aquaculture operation off Nasketucket Bay State Park; Robert Field, 8 Whalers Way, for repairs to an existing septic system within a designated coastal storm flowage area; Mark Whalen, Birchwood Street lot 58, for tree removal; and David Kiernan, 14 North Street, to replace a single-story addition.

A request submitted by Malcolm Campbell, 8 Dyar Road, for an amendment to a previously conditioned NOI was approved with minor changes, and an RDA filed by Peter Annunziato, 11 Rock Street, was continued to July 12.

A Notice of Intent filed by Fred Larson, 2 Brandt Island Shores, for coastal nourishment was continued to July 12 pending a Department of Environment Protection file number and comments, as was 1 Brandt Island Shores, owned by Goodspeed, LLC, for a groundwater recharge basin repair.

Reopened and previously examined NOI hearings receiving conditions were filed by Jennifer Capobianco, 0 Angelica Avenue, for the construction of a new single-family house; Stephen Randon, 0 Randall Road, for the construction of a single-family home; and Donna Downey, trustee, 16 Water Street, for the removal of an existing boat ramp.

Alexander Bauer's NOI was not reopened but continued to July 12 for the construction of a new single-family dwelling planned for 7 Nashawena Road.

Also continued to July 12 was the NOI filed by Randall Lane Solar, LLC.

In other matters, the commission discussed the vacancy created by the retirement of Conservation Agent Liz Leidhold and its growing concern that public matters brought before the commission may suffer delays in the absence of staffing. A drafted letter to the Select Board was discussed with member Jacobsen taking the lead. The commission discussed various stop-gap measures such as hiring a contract agent who could perform site visits. But King said contractors generally did not want to handle the associated paperwork. Leidhold's last day is scheduled for July 20.

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett Conservation Commission is scheduled for July 12 at 6:30 pm.

Horan Completes Unforgettable Year

Sports Roundup

By Nick Friar

After a year of so much frustration and letdown, the Old Rochester Regional High School athletic community bore witness to a season unlike any other for one senior student-athlete.

Meghan Horan's final year with the Bulldogs began in the winter, with ORR opting for the Fall II season that the MIAA offered schools amidst the COVID-19 pandemic. Even though there wasn't a state tournament to compete this past winter season, Horan and the rest of ORR's girls basketball team made the best of their situation. Even with a pause in the action due to quarantining, the Bulldogs won every regular-season game and the South Coast Conference tournament.

"She's a leader, but she doesn't have to yell. She's very positive about things," ORR girls basketball coach Rick Regan said about Horan. "Her teammates follow her and know that she has their best interests (at heart), and they're willing to work hard for her, as well. It helps to have good talent around you, but it also helps if you can have the person that can lead that talent in the right direction. I think that's one of Meg's greatest characteristics – she's a natural leader due to her work ethic and positivity.

"I think what was great about Meg was I was a new coach coming in for her – she had Coach (Bob) Hohne for three years in a row so she knew what to expect – she didn't know what to expect from me. She took the initiative and sent an email to me just after I was appointed to let me know who she was and what she learned from the older girls and how she wanted to take that knowledge and help out the younger girls to be a good influence on them."

When the Fall II season rolled around, Horan and her ORR volleyball teammates managed to replicate what girls basketball had done. They also went unbeaten in the regular season and won the SCC tournament.

"I think her accomplishments speak to who she is as a person, not only as a good student-athlete. We chose her as a captain for a reason," ORR volleyball coach Jimmy Oliveira said of Horan. "She's a true competitor. She's a true leader. I think one of the biggest things is that she's never selfish, and she always puts the team first. She sets the tone for the team and leads by example.

"Her graduating and moving onto college is definitely going to be felt on the team and a hard role to fill."

Then came the spring, which reintroduced MIAA State Tournament play. Although the top-ranked ORR girls lacrosse team fell short in the Division 1 South Sectional tournament, losing 18-15 to No. 9 Scituate in the quarterfinals, ORR earned the No. 1 seed by going 10-0 in the regular season. That mark gave Horan a perfect record in regular season play for all sports in her senior year.

"Mike Devoll, the school principal, let me know she hadn't lost a game all year. I think we were playing our last league game when he said, 'Don't ruin it – Horan hasn't lost a conference game all year,'" ORR girl lacrosse coach Scott Tavares recalled. "She just leads by example is the best way I can put it. Obviously, she's one of our better players, everybody knows that. But it's her ability to lead that I think girls really gravitate to. She never takes a play off in practice. You know that every single day you're going to get 100 percent effort from Meg. She doesn't really have that many off days. She's always on top of her game.

"I think a perfect example was we tried to practice early in the afternoon after school, and I could say, 'Hey Meg, I'm going to be 10 minutes late to practice. Can you make sure the girls are going?' I'm coming out to practice 10 minutes late and I see Meg leading a stretch. She keeps everyone accountable. As a coach, she's like an extension of myself. And the girls in the program, when Meghan says to do something, it's almost like an automatic."

What does Horan make of the unfathomable accomplishment?

"This year is definitely one to remember," she said. "With how it started, it was just a very weird year. One of the biggest things I'll remember is how, through every season, we got through (the adversity) and were able to complete the season."

But of course, Horan also thought of all the teammates she played alongside this year when reflecting on her accomplishment.

"Every team I played on, everyone put in 100-percent effort," she said. "My teammates are what kept the record and kept us playing great. I wouldn't have done it without them."

Now Horan moves onto UMass Amherst where she will either try to walk onto the basketball or lacrosse team. If not, she will continue her athletic career at the club level while studying marketing at the university's Isenberg School of Management.

"I think Meg is going to have a very bright future," Oliveira said. "It's definitely in her hands to do what she wants to do. She has all the qualities, she's a great person. She demonstrated great maturity at the high school age already. I think she's going to keep competing, keep leading – just in different ways."

Taste of the Town

For years, the Mattapoisett Woman's Club has hosted "Taste of the Town" under the tent during Harbor Days Week. In summer 2021, for the second year in a row, this will be a "Taste of the Town Without the Tent," as members look forward to a full in-person return in 2022.

As a "Thank You" to our participating restaurants and caterers for their support and generosity during the past years, the Mattapoisett Woman's Club will spotlight one restaurant each week for the 12 weeks of summer with a special sign in front of the business. Look for it and give them a shout-out of "Thanks" with your patronage during that week and all summer long.

The philanthropic projects of the MWC have continued even as members were unable to gather in-person, including scholarship awards totaling $5,000 to Mattapoisett students, daffodil bulbs planted in public gardens, seasonal container plantings at the Mattapoisett Post Office, Town Beach, Mattapoisett Library, Town Hall, and Town Harbor, plus weeding and garden maintenance at various locations in public areas around the town.

The Mattapoisett Woman's Club is always open to new members from the South Coast area. For more information and a membership application, please see the

OBITUARIES

David L. Keighley of Mattapoisett passed away peacefully at home surrounded by his loving family on Wednesday, June 23, 2021 as a result of complications that developed following a double lung transplant in October 2019.

Born in 1954 in New Bedford and raised on Spring Street in Fairhaven a short block away from St. Joseph Church and School, David was the fifth of six children born to the late Vincent J. Keighley and Lillian A. Keighley.

Following his 1972 graduation from Holy Family High School, David worked at various outdoor occupations including working at A.D. Makepeace cranberries with his brother Kevin and working in a painting business with his brother Mark. Later he returned to school and earned his B.A. from UMass Dartmouth in 1990, graduating as the top student in his Political Science class. He enrolled in the Southern New England School of Law (now UMass School of Law) in 1992 and received his law degree in 1996.

In his role as an attorney, David specialized in appellate work. Initially that was at the Bristol County District Attorney's Office. Later, in his own practice he worked through the MA Committee for Public Counsel Services until his retirement in 2018 following his diagnosis of idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis.

David was a well-read individual. Besides law he was chiefly interested in history and political biographies such as Shelby Foote's massive three volume set on the American civil war and Doris Kearns Goodwin's biography of President Lyndon Johnson. As for fiction, Charles Dickens and Mark Twain were his favorites.

In his twenties he took up running and later he became an avid cyclist and participant in yoga and Pilates classes. David was a longtime friend of both Bill W. and Lois W.

He is survived by his former wife Doris Guerette of Mattapoisett; his brothers, Kevin Keighley of Acushnet and Mark Keighley and his wife Nancy Gentile of Mattapoisett; his sisters, Kathleen Keighley of Wichita Falls, TX, Carole Andre of Raleigh, NC and Rosemary Keighley of Hull, MA., nephews Ryan Keighley and his wife Brigid of S. Burlington, Vt and William Andre and his wife Alexa of Clayton, NC; niece Martha Andre of Selma, NC; great nieces and nephews Coleen, Connor, Michael and Lola. In addition to his parents, he was pre-deceased by his brother-in-law Douglas Andre.

Thank you from his family to Community Nurse & Home Care and his friends who supported him through his illness and helped ease his transition to the afterlife.

He will be cremated and his cremains interred with his parents at Riverside Cemetery in Fairhaven. Relatives and friends are invited to a graveside service at Riverside Cemetery on Friday July 2, 2021 at 10 am. Donations in David's memory may be made to Community Nurse and Home Care, 62 Center Street, Fairhaven, MA 02719. Arrangements are by the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd., Mattapoisett. For online condolence book, please visit www.saundersdwyer.com.

The convention will take place in Lowell on September 25, (either in-person or virtually). You do not need to be a member of the Matt Dems to be a delegate, just a registered Democrat voter. Please contact Pat Murray for more information at patm@mattdems.org.

Introduction to Pickleball

Mattapoisett Recreation is excited to offer a free introduction to pickleball at the Hammond Street courts. The program is open to anyone 16 years and older. Join us for a 90-minute clinic on Monday, July 12, from 6:00 pm – 7:30 pm. Come learn the basics of the game. We will have three courts, and instructors available to go over scoring and rules. Rain date is Monday, July 19.

St. Philip's Episcopal Church

On Sunday, July 4, St. Philip's Episcopal Church by the Town Beach in Mattapoisett will be visited by the Rev. Robert Malm, Retired Rector, Grace Church, Alexandria, Virgina. Services using the 1928 Book of Common Prayer will be held at 8:00 am and 10:00 am. Masks are required at this time and all are welcome.

From the Files of the Rochester Historical Society

By Connie Eshbach

Reading through many of the East Rochester Church papers and the minutes of the early Rochester Historical Society that are housed in the Museum, it becomes clear that while memberships in both groups would ebb and flow over the years, there was always a core group that kept things going. During the 2020-2021 pandemic, the current Rochester Historical Society has been reduced to that (at times very small) essential core.

Now, as the world, the community, and our Society and Museum reopen, we need our members – past, present, and future – to join us again in keeping both active. The Museum with its new exhibit is currently open on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of June and July, as well as by appointment. We also have some upcoming events scheduled. The first is a yard sale on August 7. Donations can be dropped off at the Museum on the following Fridays: July 9, July 16, and July 25, from 10:30 am – 1:00 pm. Arrangements can be made for alternate drop off times by calling 508-763-4932. We accept a large number of items, but not large electronics (smaller items must work), or clothing. We will need lots of volunteers for both the day of the sale and on Wednesday, August 4, and Thursday, August 5, to help with set up.

The end of September and beginning of October will bring a new exhibit, "Curator's Show Part II," along with a Cranberry Bake Sale and other activities.

Local School Districts to Receive Educational Grants

The Department of Elementary and Secondary Education announced that the Marion, Mattapoisett, Rochester, and Old Rochester school districts have been awarded funding to provide enhanced educational opportunities for students who have been impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. Under the Acceleration Academy Grant Program, districts receiving these one-time grants will be able to provide additional class time during the summer months in support of early literacy efforts and supplemental math instruction.

"This was a particularly difficult period of time for our K-12 students, and I hope that these added resources will help students that may have had difficulty adjusting during the past year-and-a-half," said Rep. Bill Straus (D-Mattapoisett).

Marion and Mattapoisett are set to receive grants of $14,000. Rochester will receive $16,500, and Old Rochester will receive $20,500. Under the grant program, acceleration academies will benefit from limited class sizes and are expected to run one week each.

Movie Review

Call Me Snake

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Escape from New York* (1981). Starring Kurt Russell and Isaac Hayes. Directed by John Carpenter. Running time: 99 minutes. MPAA rating: R. Now available on streaming home media.

At the start of the '80s, John Carpenter and Kurt Russell were in need of a little image rehab. Carpenter had made two back-to-back horror hits, and likely wasn't interested in going for number three; he chose to whisk the dust off a futuristic action script he'd tinkered with in the early '70s. It's possible Carpenter wanted to go back to his true calling as a maker of Westerns in non-Western garb, and Escape from New York (which turns 40 next week) is a natural companion piece to his earlier Assault on Precinct 13. For Russell's part, he'd just finished Used Cars, but that was a comedy, and Russell needed something as far away from his Disney roots as humanly possible. S.D. "Snake" Plissken, the scruffy, cynical, one-eyed combat veteran turned career criminal turned unwilling rescuer, was just the ticket.

Escape from New York is Bad-Ass Carpenter in full effect, and its influence cannot be understated; Robert Rodriguez studied the film, and James Cameron, who worked on its special effects and matte paintings, owed a large debt to Escape in The Terminator, the best John Carpenter movie that Carpenter never made. Escape also changed the look of urban action films, which had tended towards the drab; Carpenter and cinematographer Dean Cundey made the action genre safe for midnight-black compositions bisected by blue flares of light or illuminated by flickering orange flame.

The President (Donald Pleasence in a change-of-pace comedy turn) has been kidnapped — his plane has gone down behind the walls of the maximum-security prison that Manhattan has become. In his possession is a tape that might forestall nuclear war. He's alive, somewhere in the urban jungle dominated by "crazies" and criminals under the iron fist of the Duke of New York (Isaac Hayes). Snake, who's doing life for attempted bank robbery, is brought to police commissioner Bob Hauk (Lee Van Cleef, in a masterstroke of casting) and offered a deal: If he can get into New York and retrieve the President, he'll be pardoned for his crimes. To make sure Snake doesn't high-tail it to Canada, he's injected with micro-explosives, which will go off in 22 hours unless he returns with the President and/or the tape. Grudgingly, Snake accepts.

Once Snake lands on the World Trade Center, Escape takes off. Carpenter loads it with lively supporting characters: the effusive Cabbie (Ernest Borgnine), the duplicitous Brain (Harry Dean Stanton) and his "squeeze" Maggie (Adrienne Barbeau). Season Hubley makes a brief appearance as a punk-haired waif whose offer of sex in return for getting out of New York with Snake is about the closest this dour film comes to a romantic interlude. In this dystopian world of 1997, everyone is out for himself; Snake emerges as a hero only because he won't betray anyone — he's been hung out to dry before, and didn't like it much.

Surprisingly, there isn't a lot of action. Six million dollars only buys you so much, and there's a stutter of gunfire here and there, but most of the movie is dedicated to pursuit or retreat. Even the gladiatorial match between Snake and the towering Ox Baker is over almost before it begins. Escape demands economy of motion; the clock is ticking, and there's little time to waste on big action sequences that serve no purpose other than to display the director's skill at fight choreography. Snake is like a brutally impatient editor set loose in the screenwriters' story. Does it move the story along? Forget it, we don't have time.

Escape adds film noir to a Western plot; it's only set in the future because it can't be set in the present, and nobody would have given Carpenter the money to set it in the past. Snake is a gunslinger whose dim view of human nature is already several leagues past Gary Cooper at the end of High Noon. He strides into a dirty town, shoots up the joint, goes about his mission, and strides off into the moonset (for there is no sunset, or sun, in this film) with only the vague consolation of his freedom — whatever that means in a world run by idiots like President Pleasence and tyrants like the Duke.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A shift in your workplace responsibilities creates resentment among some co-workers. Deal with it before it becomes a threat to your success on the job.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Expect some surprises in what you thought was one of your typically well-planned schedules. Deal with them, and then enjoy some lighthearted entertainment.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Be careful: What appears to be a solid financial opportunity might have some hidden risks attached. A hazy personal matter needs to be cleared up.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) It's a good time to strengthen ties with family and friends. You might feel unsure about a recent workplace decision, but time will prove you did the right thing.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Just when you thought your relationship was comfortable and even predictable, your partner or spouse could spring a potentially life-changing surprise on you.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Your usually generous self is overshadowed by your equally strong suspicious nature. You might be judging things too harshly. Keep an open mind.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Love and romance dominate the week. Married Aquarians enjoy domestic harmony, while singles could soon be welcoming overtures from loving Leos.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) An old health problem recurs, but it is soon dealt with, leaving you eager to get back into the swing of things. A favorable travel period starts this week.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have an independent spirit that resists being told what to do. But you're also wise enough to appreciate good advice.

Covid and life is getting back to some kind of normal. We have the OK to hold our Agricultural Fair. It will be August 21. We are working very hard to get our fair book together and printed with the hope it is available mid-July. If you are familiar with our fair, you know there are rules for entries and you also know that if you grew it, you can enter it. If it's a craft you made, enter it. The book is meant to be a guide. We are looking forward to finally being able to see and say 'hello' to many old friends and to meet new ones as well.

Entries will be accepted Friday afternoon, August 20, from 2:00 pm – 4:00 pm and again at night from 7:00 pm – 8:30 pm. Entries must be in place by 8:45 pm for judging to begin. We will again be serving a Ham & Bean Supper at 6:00 pm. Seating at this time may be limited to allow some spacing and there will also be meals for take-out. Because of this, if you know you are coming, reservations for sit-down or take-out are recommended. Produce left from the fair will be auctioned after the supper, beginning about 7:15 pm.

We hope to see many of you there on the 21st of August. If you have any questions, please contact me at 508-295-8908 or at sash48@comcast.net. Have a great, safe Summer, Sue LaFleur, Rochester Grange Fair Secretary.

A POWERFUL PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit, you who solves all problems, who light all roads so I can obtain my goals, you who give me the devine gifts to forgive and forget all evil against me, in this short prayer, to thank you for all things and confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory, thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. The person must say this prayer for three consecutive days. After three days, the favor requested will be granted, even if it appears difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor. Only your initials shall appear at the bottom. BML

2021 Keel Awards

The Wanderer is pleased to announce that we are soliciting nominations for our 28th annual "Wanderer Keel Awards." The yearly community service honor, presented to one Tri-Town resident from each of the three central towns in our circulation area, will be announced in our July 30 edition, and each winner will be the subject of a short feature highlighting his/her contributions to the local community. But, The Wanderer needs your help in selecting these "unsung heroes."

The requirements are simple. Nominees must be legal residents for at least five years of Mattapoisett, Marion or Rochester, and must have contributed in some way to the overall benefit of the community – directly to town residents, indirectly through efforts in promoting town activities or working to keep the wheels of local government well oiled. The only restriction is that these persons cannot benefit from their efforts in any other way – either financially or politically (hence, sitting elected officials are not eligible).

In doing this, we hope to applaud those who are rarely recognized for their countless hours of service and focus on the many people behind the scenes who remain otherwise anonymous, but who provide crucial support to many town functions.

Like the keel of a ship that keeps the vessel from capsizing, the recipients of the Annual Wanderer Keel Award will be recognized for their stalwart efforts in keeping the community on an "even keel."

Past recipients of this honor include:

Please send the name, address, and telephone number of recommended nominees, along with a brief description of their key contributions to the community and why you feel they are deserving of this honor to: news@wanderer.com, or via mail, Keel Award, The Wanderer, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739.

The deadline for nominations is Thursday, July 15, by 3:00 pm.

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!
